- ☐ the democratic state-public nature of the board of education.

2. The purpose and objectives of education

The modern national educational ideal is a highly moral, creative, competent citizen of Russia, accepting the fate of the Fatherland as his personal, aware of responsibility for the present and future of his country, rooted in the spiritual and cultural traditions of a multinational people Of the Russian Federation.

Based on this educational ideal, as well as based on the basic values for our society (such as family, work, fatherland, nature, peace, knowledge, culture, health), the general goal of education at KBSU is formulated – personal development of students, manifested by:

- 1) in their assimilation of knowledge of the basic norms that society has developed on the basis of these values (that is, in their assimilation of socially significant knowledge);
- 2) in the development of their positive attitudes to these social values (that is, in the development of their socially significant relationships);
- 3) in their acquisition of behavioral experience corresponding to these values, experience in applying the formed knowledge and relationships in practice (that is, in their acquisition of experience in carrying out socially significant activities, including professionally oriented ones).

This goal orients teaching staff and heads of educational structures of KBSU not to ensure that the student's personality corresponds to a single level of education, but to ensure the positive dynamics of his personality development. In this regard, it is important to combine the efforts of teaching staff and heads of educational structures of KBSU for the development of the student's personality and the efforts of the student himself in his self-development. Their cooperation and partnership are an important factor of success in achieving the goal.

Achieving the set goal of educating students will be to contribute to the solution of the following main tasks:

- mastering by students the value-normative and activity-practical aspect of the relationship of a person with a person, a patriot with the Motherland, a citizen with the rule of law and civil society, a person with nature, with art, etc.;
- involving the student in the processes of self-knowledge, self-understanding, assistance to students in correlating ideas about their own capabilities, interests, restrictions with the requests and requirements of the surrounding people, society, state;
- assistance in personal self-determination, designing individual educational trajectories and the image of future professional activity, support for the student's self-development activities; mastering the student's social, regulatory and communicative competencies that provide him with individual success in communicating with others, effectiveness in social practices, in the process of cooperation with peers, seniors and juniors.
